

Stoke Damerel Primary Academy

Relationship and Sex Education Policy

Rationale

The Department of Education Sex Education Guidance suggests that primary schools should prepare children to cope with the physical and emotional challenges of growing up and to give them an elementary understanding of human reproduction. This statement remains appropriate to today's society. Stoke Damerel Primary Academy, recognise the needs of the children and have developed a Sex and Relationship Education programme for each year group.

Purpose

Our relationship and sex scheme of work will allow children to:

- Develop mutual respect and care for others
- Air their feelings and views and feel safe to ask questions
- Develop skills relevant to decision making in sexual behaviour and relationships
- Become aware of a range of views about sex and relationship related issues and reach their own, informed opinions
- Have access to accurate information to be able to combat ignorance, misconceptions, stereotypes and prejudice
- To be better prepared for their future life.

A scheme of work for the teaching of Relationship and Sex Education at Stoke Damerel Primary is incorporated with our PSHE curriculum which follows our KAPOW curriculum.

The scheme of work has been designed to show progression as the children become increasingly mature and inquisitive. It is important that lessons be delivered in a sensitive manner, bearing in mind the family circumstances of individual children and in a relaxed and supportive environment.

Cross-curricular links will be made to support understanding.

Planning Sex and Relationship Education

Long-term plans are defined for each year group within the scheme of work.

Medium-term plans are monitored by the PSHE co-ordinator.

Teachers are expected to evaluate activities at the end of each term.

Inclusion

In common with all other areas of the curriculum the teaching programme for Relationship and Sex Education should be differentiated to meet the needs of children at different ages and stages of development.

The teaching of Relationship and Sex Education should acknowledge the needs of children from different cultural or ethnic backgrounds. There may be occasions, particularly with children in Upper Key Stage 2, where it is appropriate and sensitive to teach children in separate sex classes.

Parental Rights

A parent does have the right to withdraw their child from all or part of a sex education programme, where it is outside the National Curriculum. This right is acknowledged but we encourage parents to recognise the importance and value of this area of the curriculum. Parents will be informed each year of the Relationship and Sex Education to be undertaken by their child.

Policy Review

This policy is reviewed annually at the start of the academic year and in line with education guidance. The school's governing body will agree and review the policy alongside the senior leadership team.

Date agreed – January 2026

Review date – September 2026
