9. Glossary

Equality		Ensuring individuals or groups of individuals are treated fairly and equally and no less favourably, specific to their needs, including areas of race, gender, disability, religion or belief, sexual orientation and age.
Diversity		A term used when recognising and valuing peoples different background, knowledge, skills, experiences and encouraging and using those differences positively in the workplace.

Protected Characteristics		The term used to refer to the nine characteristics that are protected from discrimination by legislation under the Equality Act 2010. The characteristics are: age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation.
Discrimination	Direct discrimination	This occurs when someone is treated less favourably than another person because of a protected characteristic they have, or thought to have, or because they associate with someone who has a protected characteristic.
	Indirect discrimination	This occurs when there is a rule or policy or practice that applies to everyone but disadvantages a person with a particular protected characteristic and cannot be objectively justified.
	Discrimination by association	Direct discrimination experienced by someone because they are linked to or associated with a person who has a protected characteristic. This could be a friend, spouse, partner, parent or another person with who they are associated.
	Discrimination by perception	Discrimination by perception happens when a person is discriminated against because they are thought to have a particular characteristic when in fact they do not. If you discriminate against people because you think they are transgender, for example, then they will be protected even if they are not transgender.
Harassment		Unwelcome and unacceptable behaviours which create a stressful or intimidating environment for the victim. Examples of harassment can include verbal abuse, racist/sexist jokes, unwanted physical contact and sexual advances, ridicule or isolation.
Victimisation		When an individual is treated less favourably or subjected to a detriment because they either make a complaint about being discriminated against or assist someone else who is being discriminated against.
Stereotype		Having inaccurate or simplistic generalisations about a group that allows others to categorise them and treat them accordingly.
Bias		To have a preference to treat a person or a particular group favourably/unfavourably.
Reasonable Adjustments		Where a provision/ criterion/ practice/ physical feature puts a disabled person at a substantial disadvantage in relation to a relevant matter in comparison with persons who are not disabled, the employer has the duty to take such steps as reasonable to avoid the disadvantage/ provide auxiliary aid (if the information is provided by the disabled person).

Due Regard		In relation to the equality duties, whenever significant decisions are being made or policies developed, relevant and proportionate consideration must be given to the equality implications.
Equality Impact Assessments (EIA)		The method used for identifying the effect our policies, practices or activities might have on different groups before we reach any decisions or take action. They are an important service improvement tool, making sure that our services are as effective as they can be for everyone Stoke Damerel Primary Academy serves. They also help to prevent us from taking action that might have outcomes we did not intend.
Data Protection Impact Assessments (DPIA / PIA)		The DPIA says what the data process is, why it is necessary to process the data and the proportionality of the processing to help to manage any risks which it poses to the rights and freedoms of people's information. The DPIA process is important because it helps the Stoke Damerel Primary Academy to make sure it is complying with the GDPR and is a method to record and demonstrate compliance. For example, if a new technology will process data concerning vulnerable subjects such as children or employees, a DPIA would need to be completed.
